

DIORAMA EDITIONS present PANORAMA

Book launch
7 April 2016
7-9 pm

Five years since the publication of its first issue, the editorial project Diorama is evolving and multiplying: independent publisher Diorama Editions debuts with Panorama, a collection of stories describing the reality of the Milanese contemporary scene.

Panorama is an anthology gathering sixty conversations with creative talents based in Milan: it portrays personalities actively involved in the local context and hints at the professional and relational network they trace, offering a global and holistic overview. It is the result of a limited but heterogeneous selection reflecting what best represents Milan today and defines its most recent cultural scenario. The project is a spontaneous testimony born organically as a reaction to a common desire developed in 2015.

Panorama presents a series of interviews with: Alessandro Agudio, Riccardo Banfi, Martina Bassi, Marco Basta, Marco Belfiore, Dario Bitto, Enrico Boccioletti, Dafne Boggeri, Lupo Borgonovo, Benni Bosetto, Canedicoda, Giada Carnevale, Federico Chiari, Matteo Cremonesi, Lisa Dalfino, Luca De Leva, Filippo De Marchi, Sabine Delafon, Alessandro Di Pietro, Giorgio Di Salvo, Anna Franceschini, Michele Gabriele, Diego Gualandris, Adi Haxhiaj, Invernomuto, Lucia Leuci, Lorenza Longhi, Andrea Magnani, Beatrice Marchi, Diego Marcon, Allegra Martin, Francesco Merlini, Jacopo Miliani, Giada Montomoli, Matteo Nasini, Piotr Niepsuj, NO TEXT, Alek O., Galleria Opulenza, Cristiana Palandri, Parasite 2.0, Gianandrea Poletta, Luca Pozzi, Elena Radice, Margherita Raso, Giovanni Riggio, Jacopo Rinaldi, Andrea Romano, Alice Ronchi, Riccardo Sala, Omar Sartor, Davide Savorani, Flavio Scutti, Giovanna Silva, Delfino Sisto Legnani, Priscilla Tea, Chiara Terraneo, Natalia Trejbalova, Jonathan Vivacqua.
